Volume XXXXVII, No. 1

President's Message by Lisa Johnson, UVQG President:

Happy New Year to all my quilting friends. Many wonderful Opportunities await us this year. Do you plan to declutter, start a new project or learn a new skill? I plan on doing all of these. We have some wonderful programs planned for the Utah Valley Quilt Guild, as well as some great opportunities to serve and learn. A fun challenge is in the works that we hope you will participate in. 2022 is going to be fabulous!!!! Let's do this!

Quilter's Corner

As I am getting older, it is hard for me to see the edge of the fabric, especially if the mat and fabric are close to the same color or both dark. I put a piece of light scrap fabric behind the edge I need to cut (make sure it doesn't go into the area you are going to cut). Then I can see the edge clearly.

Hint submitted by Amber Cox: Place a wound bobbin in an old dental floss container. Run the thread out the hole the dental floss goes out. When you need a length of thread pull it off the bobbin use the cutter to cut the thread.

• Utah Valley Quilt Guild 2022 Challenge Quilt

- By Karin Crawford, President-Elect

Do you know that 2022 is the 45th year the Utah Quilt Guild has been in existence? It was chartered in 1977. So thinking of 5 years ago when we did the Ruby Jubilee, I thought we should do a Sapphire Celebration for 2022. So here goes:

- Blue and white and/or Blue and Cream – no other colors allowed
- Quilts will have 3 layers – top, batting, backing.
- Any size allowed from 12 inches to 108 inches per side.
- Quilt must be completed IN 2022 by the November UVQG meeting (the third week). Earlier completed Blue and White Quilts not allowed.
- A definition of completion is: bound and label attached.
- Please email Karin at KarinCrawford@gmail.com for any questions.

Service Goal 2022

I set our first goal for 2021 at 100 items, we met that goal by July so I bumped it up to 200. Our grand total for the year was 446 items donated to local charities! Our total was nearly doubled by the guild's efforts at the November retreat where 210 pillow cases were sewn to be donated to Little Lambs Foster.

That being said, I will set the 2022 goal to be 222 items! We can always bump it up later, right? I am continually amazed at the work and contributions of our guild members-these are just the ones I am aware of. If you are helping with service efforts, let me know your completed donation numbers and I will add them to the spreadsheet. –Sarah Yorgason

222 items

Coming Soon!

Are you interested in helping with guild service efforts? Starting soon will be a monthly work meeting to prep kits and help process donations. Information will be presented at January's guild meeting. After all, Many Hands make light work!

Habitat for Humanity

On November 16, 2021 there was a ribbon cutting ceremony for the Santamaria family. Three quilts were waiting for them as they toured their new home. A large blue and white feminine floral quilt was chosen especially for the mother of four active sons. Two smaller, brightly colored quilts were included for the boys to share. One with dinosaurs and one I spy with bring delight to the family as they cuddle together or use them to build forts.

The Hernandez family has faced delays with their home because of supply issues, but their quilt is all finished except for the binding!

If you would like to help with the next Habitat project, contact Sarah Yorgason

The Fernandez Family

Kimberlee and Adan Fernandez, like all parents, want to provide the best home they can for their children. Not only a home that offers safety, security, and stability for their four daughters, but one that also provides accessibility for their 14-year-old with cerebral palsy, Adalee. The Fernandez family loves to spend time together, whether they are day-tripping or camping.

Adan works in the HVAC field, and Kim is a part-time elementary school librarian. Until COVID, she also taught dance to children at a small studio. Kim said that their oldest daughter, Emma (17 years), cares for Adalee almost as much as her. She is also “super responsible,” a straight-A student, cheerleader, and on the student council. Adalee loves using tablets to communicate with the family and watch YouTube. She loves to read and adores all things Harry Potter. She always stays busy and loves to go places with her family, especially out to eat. Mindee (9 years) is also helpful with Adalee. She loves to dance, play with her friends, and create art. She says that when she grows up, she wants to help people like her sister, Adalee. The youngest daughter, Kayla (6 years), is the “spitfire” of the family. She loves dancing and tumbling but also cuddling with her parents and the family dogs. She almost always has a smile on her face, Kim said.

The Fernandez family owns a small, modest home in Orem. The house, built in 1955, needs significant repairs. More importantly, the home needs to be accessible for Adalee, who uses a wheelchair, cannot speak, and has limited use of her arms but is cognitively a 14-year-old who desires independence like any other teenager.

The home is inadequate in almost every way. The makeshift plywood ramp leading to the front door needs to be replaced every year, and there is a one-inch lip that precludes her wheelchair from entering the house. In addition, none of the doorways in the home are wide enough for her wheelchair, so Adalee must crawl everywhere in the home. Crawling creates extremely calloused knees, and she wears through at least a pair of pants a month.

The bathroom is a considerable challenge for Adalee and her parents. Not only is the doorway too narrow for her wheelchair, but the toilet and shower are also not accessible, leaving Kim and Adan to have to lift her 120 lb body every time she needs to shower or use the bathroom. The small bathroom barely has room for two people, let alone three. And at 120 lbs, Kim is finding that she cannot lift her daughter for much longer. Adalee’s favorite activity is to bounce on the trampoline in the backyard. Because there is no accessible way to access the backyard, she must wait for her father to get home from work and carry her out. Kim and Adan have long accepted that their daughter will live with them for the rest of their lives. But, they do not want to move from their Orem neighborhood because of the proximity of the Fernandez family’s grandparents, who provides support and emergency response babysitting for the other three children.

Due to the lack of accessibility, age, and critical infrastructure issues inside and outside of the home, it is more cost-effective to level this home and build an ADA-accessible home in its place. Kim said, “Having a home for Adalee that will allow her independence is so crucial to not only her but the whole family. This life is hard. Anything that will make it easier is welcome.” Habitat for Humanity of Utah County will raze the Fernandez home in early 2022 and build a home that will meet the needs of Adalee and her family now and for decades to come.

Spring Retreat

Hello everyone,

Wanda and I are so excited to organize and host the Spring Retreat this year. The spring retreat will be held on February 26th from 9-4. We need to be cleaned up and out by 5:00 PM.

There are a few changes – By the time we could firm up a date for the spring retreat, The Corn Wagon was already booked. However, we've found another location that will allow us to get together, laugh, and get away for a bit.

The new location is just off I-15 by Thanksgiving Point.

Thanksgiving Point Executive Suites- 2975 W. Executive Pkwy, Lehi, Utah 84043

Unfortunately, with COVID precautions, we will not be sharing lunch this year. However, there are many places to eat within a very short drive. The building (my hubby's office) also has a fridge, microwave, and some vending machines available. There is plenty of parking and no stairs.

We've gathered 9 tables and there are plenty of chairs. We'll need 4 more tables. If any of you awesome ladies are able to bring a table, please let me know.

We're also going to need a dozen surge protectors/power strips. Please bring one with your sewing kit.

The price for spring retreat this year will be $12/person. Please send a check payable to "Utah Valley Quilt Guild" to Lacey Peterson at 3459 N Bear Hollow Way, Lehi, Utah, 84043 or you can pay with Venmo @uvqgtreasurer and add the Venmo fee for a total of $12.40/person

Please let me know when you've paid. I can only reserve your spot with payment. My number is 801-930-5564 – Text is preferred.

With the limited space at the new location, there are only 24 spots available. Please pay to reserve your spot to join the fun as soon as possible. We can't wait to get together for the retreat.

Thank You

Lacey Peterson and Wanda Sump

Next Quilt Guild Meeting

Guild members, we are sorry to announce our planned inspirational quilter for the new year has had to be rescheduled because her daughter will be entering the Missionary Training Center for her church service at the same time as our meeting and so she will not be able to share with us in January, but we have rebooked her for later this year.

However, good fortune follows, and we will be privileged to listen to the accomplished artist, teacher and author Jenedy Paige Eggleston. We're very excited to have her and we know that you will be inspired by her creative abilities, her vision, and her motivation to create. Her mission truly is to empower and inspire others and you will feel that when you hear her story. She'll tell us about her journey to discover the power of creativity in her life and how you can find that power of expression as well. She might even share how she keeps herself balanced by competing as a Ninja Warrior while raising her three children.

So what can a quilter learn from a portrait artist? How does the medium of paint on canvas relate to the stitching and quilting of fabric? More than you might think. We all share a need for understanding color, composition, and movement. We all have a desire to express our personal vision and life experiences through whatever artistic medium we choose.

While Jenedy loves traditional, classic portrayal, she isn't hesitant to do modern abstraction. So do we as quilters, becoming more modern all the time by updating our traditional patterns. She also likes expressive backgrounds, who doesn't like a little design and color and movement rather than always the classic Kona snow?

Her paintings come from her life, a journaling experience. We often feel, we can tell our life story in our quilts as well. What was happening when we made it, the representation of a certain pattern, or fabric or the blocks used to interpret a portion of our life? She feels the same about her choice of medium as we do about ours.

Come join us for inspiration and hear how another art medium can be related to your own quilt creation experience. See what this can stir inside each of you as you create this coming year in fabric art.

Jenedy's art can be seen in galleries, in many private collections, as well as in temples of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints throughout the world.

For more information on Jenedy or to see more of her work, please visit her website at <https://www.jenedypaige.com/>

Block of the Month

We have a special surprise for you this year. We will be offering a free Block-of-the Month Quilt. There will be two versions of this quilt. One with the pieced border (105" square, King size) and one without the pieced border (80" square). This is a patriotic theme quilt called "America". It looks difficult until you break it down into monthly segments. Paper-pieced and rotary cut. You do not have to do this quilt. It is for your enjoyment only.

Rules: Each month there will be a link for you to download. The segment will only be available during that month. All requests for back issues will be ignored. Once the entire quilt is completed, it will become a for sale item in my Etsy Store under LadybugLines. This is offered free of charge to the members of UVQG. Please do NOT share with anyone outside of our group. Copyrighted by Terrie Peterson & Ladybug Lines. Please note: This is NOT the challenge quilt for 2022.

This is the larger quilt with the pieced border. It is 105" x 105". Large enough for a King size bed.

The one on the left is for the large quilt. The one on the right is for the smaller quilt.
Does not include backing or binding.

Instructions:

There are 4 pdf files:

- 1. Face Applique Templates: This shows you the templates for applique that you add after the block is paper-pieced.
- 2. Face Blowapart: This is what I call the file that shows you how the different pieces go together. It is a smaller scale than the actual pattern.
- 3. Face PP without the applique: This file is to scale and the actual paper-piecing pattern. Print at 100%.
- 4. Face with applique: for placement.
