President's Message, May 2023

Dear Guild Members,

We are now enjoying the Merry Month of May and all the beautiful Spring Flowers! FINALLY! I always love the quilts that display flowers, especially roses. My grandmother, Rose Lee Standage, painted roses on china and my mother did as well. There are many quilt patterns designed for flowers. I hope to continue doing more in my projects to come.

There are still a few spaces left in the Utah Quilt Guild Seminar on Quilt Judging to be held on May 8th and 9th . This is a wonderful opportunity to elevate your quilting skills and to learn to judge at quilt shows in the state of Utah. This class is offered only once "in a blue moon." You must be a member of the Utah Quilt Guild ($20.00) and the class ($25.00) includes lunch for the 2 days. Please go to utahquiltguild.org to sign up.

I hope you enjoyed Emily Bailey, the Crumb Quilter. Her class and her trunk show were fun and educational. Thank you, Lisa, for having Emily as our National Teacher this year. We are all looking forward to the July Fair in Wallsburg this year. Again, many thanks to Karen Ashton for so generously offering her Red Barn as the venue. If any of you would like to have space to vendor your small business, please contact Machel Preston. The cost is only $45.00. We expect about 300 people to attend.

Our program for May is a Round Robin. You will not want to miss the professionals who will be teaching the classes and for the opportunity to learn new quilting skills.

We have a new Property Chair, Caleb Gorringer, who is also the owner of Sundance Quilting, a great company to long arm your quilts. Caleb will be in charge of our quilt stands and other property. So if you have a need to display quilts at an event, Caleb is the one to see.

Again, thank you to all who help us run this guild. Your volunteer help is truly appreciated.

Beautiful Things Come Together One Stitch At A Time,
Karin Crawford

Fall Retreat

As stated in the last Patchwords, the fall retreat at the Zermatt is FULL. We do have a waiting list for anyone who would like to add their name to it. Preparations are well under way and we are excited to get together then. But so much to do in the meantime. Lots of yard work, flowers to plant, guild meetings, small retreats, the July Fair, etc. etc. It looks like we might be able to get a contract drawn up for 2024. We will keep you posted

UVQG President Elect Quilt Challenge 2023

“Our 2023 President-Elect Quilt Challenge is IMPROV quilting. Unleash your creativity, leave the rules behind, and try something new. Any size quilt is welcome, including quilted garments. The only rule is that it must be improv pieced and/or quilted. Submissions are due at our November Guild Meeting on November 8.

At our April guild meeting we learned from Emily Bailey about crumb piecing which is one technique that can be used in improv piecing.

We also shared ideas about curved improv piecing. There are many videos and tutorials available for this technique. Here is one from sarahgoerquilts.com which might help you get started:

Step 1: Lay two fabrics right side up, overlapping by a couple inches. Slowly and carefully cut through both layers with your rotary cutter (but no ruler or template), making a smooth improv curve. Always cut away from you. Remove the edges you've cut off of both fabrics so you have two pieces that fit together like a puzzle with the same curve cut.

Step 2: Using your marking method of choice, mark points that align on the two fabrics. Here I have chosen to use two straight pins, one in the khaki and one in the brown. These points should line up when piecing the fabrics together. If the fabrics are different lengths, also mark where the edge of one fabric hits the other. Do not pin the fabrics together at this point.

Step 3: Flip the right piece of fabric over and place onto the left piece, right sides together. Use your marks as a guide for pinning the two pieces at those points only. Since I had two pins that were used for marking I have pinned twice at each point. A single pin should work fine as well.

Step 4: Sew with a quarter inch seam allowance. The curved cut gives you a bit of stretch along the edge of your fabric. As you sew, gently stretch the (only the) longer fabric between each pair of pins. This will change depending on which part of the curve you are on. In general, you'll be gently stretching the fabric that has a concave curve in that section. Do not remove pins until you get close to them. Take care to make sure that your bottom fabric is laying flat to avoid puckers. If you are ending up with too much of one fabric when you get close to the pin try stretching the longer fabric a bit more when you sew that section. This part takes a little finesse, so practice until you like your results. Smoother, flatter curves will be easier to sew. This technique is not recommended for a drunkard's path 1/4 circle where the two pieces really need to be cut from different templates.

I generally prefer to press my seams open, but improv curves are a time when I press the way the fabric wants to go. If you are using high contrast fabrics you should be able to press to the dark side. And if you want to try it, pressing open can work as well. The seam shown above is the left seam below on the finished back of the quilt.
